

The Pendleton & Elisabeth C. Miller Charitable Foundation

presents the 17th Annual

Elisabeth C. Miller Memorial Lecture

Parks, Plants, & People

by noted public garden designer

Lynden B. Miller

Thursday, September 15, 2011, 7:00pm

Meany Hall for the Performing Arts University of Washington

The Lecture is FREE! To receive a ticket, please email info@millergarden.org.

Doors open at 6:15pm with the lecture beginning at 7:00pm. A free reception with refreshments will be held at the conclusion of the program.

Lynden B. Miller is a public garden designer in New York City and director of The Conservatory Garden in Central Park. For twenty-five years Mrs. Miller has focused on her belief that public open spaces with good, well-maintained plantings can change city life. She has taken an entirely new approach to public horticulture by creating rich plantings that provides four seasons of interest for New Yorkers.

The Miller Memorial Lecture

As a lasting gift to the horticultural community, the Pendleton and Elisabeth Carey Miller Charitable Foundation, the Elisabeth Carey Miller Botanical Garden, the Northwest Horticultural Society, the Elisabeth C. Miller Library, and Great Plant Picks sponsor a free annual memorial lecture to remember the legacy of Betty Miller.